QUALITY, SAFETY & INTEGRITY SINCE 1898

The Conomos painting tradition began in 1898 when John T. Conomos helped pioneer the structural steel painting industry. The personal and business integrity he developed has been tenaciously defended through the years. The highest degree of quality, safety and integrity remain as our core operating values over 120 years and four generations later.

At Conomos, our focus remains on superior service, value, dependability and satisfaction for our customers. We have demonstrated our expertise in achieving numerous industry certifications which include: SSPC - QP1, NACE, Veriforce, ISNETWORLD, and PEC Safety. We provide our crews with annual safety training to promote worksite awareness and minimize accidents. You can be confident that Conomos can handle complex projects and is committed to your success as well as the safety of our team.

While our primary business remains industrial painting, we offer Specialty Coating Application, Concrete and Floor Coating, Fireproofing, Tank Lining, Roofing (Indiana office only), and other Construction Services. # TANK LINING

Tank linings and coatings provide resistance to corrosion and increase the durability and longevity of steel and concrete storage tanks. Tank interiors frequently are coated with lining materials that provide resistance to corrosion due to the nature of the specific components in the stored product. This work is highly specialized and requires a contractor with experience in surface preparation, coating application and quality control. Let Conomos help you protect the service life of your assets!

INDUSTRIAL PAINTING

As the many industries we serve have different and sometimes unique needs, our workforce of highly trained union painters has the capability to complete your industrial painting and coating project safely and efficiently using the latest technologies, techniques, and equipment. We provide a broad range of routine to specialized industrial painting services, including containment and lead abatement, and proudly list an impressive number of prestigious clients and noteworthy projects.

We have experience working in numerous industries including energy, oil and gas, water treatment, chemical, power generation, manufacturing, automotive, schools or universities, athletic stadiums and entertainment venues. In addition, we have worked on other structures such as: stacks, amusement park rides, conveyors, tanks, and many more. Call or visit our website to request an estimate today!

SPECIALTY COATING APPLICATION

The application of high-performance architectural coatings is a specialized industrial painting service for commercial buildings and many public facilities. When having a large facility painted, owners need a high-performance coating to keep the facility looking aesthetically pleasing and to maintain color and gloss retention which protect the assets for years to come. This means selecting the appropriate coatings and applying them properly.

These coatings are used in high traffic or specialty environments that need protection from severe and everyday exposure. High-performance coatings will protect substrates from abrasion, impact, stains, moisture, frequent washings, constant UV exposure, and more.

CONCRETE COATING APPLICATION

Conomos has the technical competence to apply concrete coatings to the following structures:

Concrete Floors: (Commercial or Industrial)

- Complete Floor Coating/Staining
- Walkway Lining and Safety Striping

Concrete Walls:

- Cast-in-Place
- Pre-cast Tilt Up Walls

Containment Facilities:

- Tank Coating and Lining
- Secondary Containment

FIREPROOFING

We have experience applying both cementitious and intumescent fireproofing from several manufacturers and for a diverse set of clients. These projects have ranged from high visibility steel in stadiums to steel tanks in power plants and manufacturing facilities.
